

Blacklist of airlines companies: Air Valid warns passengers

Air Valid warns travelers about the limits of the blacklist when traveling abroad, or when booking an online air ticket.

In a few weeks, Europa will publish a new blacklist of airlines companies. To this end, Air Valid warns Europeans who go abroad: “Never forget that the blacklist states blacklisted airline companies that travel agencies will not offer trip-bookings from Europe. On the other hand, if you live temporarily in a foreign country or if you book directly on the website of one of these airline companies which would have an online booking website, you will not be informed that the airline company is on the so-called blacklist”

The databases of Air Valid generate information on more than 1140 airlines and disseminate about 80,000 certified passenger opinions and the flight number of 157 companies.
